GHOST PARTY

The Friends of Washington Theater and the Washington Theater Redevelopment Commission are pleased to open their doors to visitors for the first ever Ghost Party at the Theater. Scheduled for Oct. 20th from 5pm to 9pm it looks to be a great event. Rumor has it that Henry Eickelschulte, a man helping with the construction of the theater, who fell to his death while helping to build the theater still lurks. With the help from real life ghostbuster, Greg Martin, visitors will get a guided tour and learn the truth about the haunting and may even experience other spooks the theater may have. Guests will have the opportunity to sign up for a real investigation of a haunting in the area. Apple Velvet Wine, popcorn and other treats will be served as the theater begins to come back to life for the first time in many, many years. Activities will include: guided tours of the theater, apple bobbing, a classic Halloween movie screening, and more. Although costumes are not required, they are recommended. Join the theater for this exciting event.
